THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE CASTELLORIZIAN ASSOCIATION OF VICTORIA.

"REGISTERED BY AUSTRALIA POST - PUBLICATION No. VBH 3850"

This Castellorizian Newsletter No. 32 gives details of an Extraordinary Meeting, to be held at our Club Rooms, on Sunday, 10th November, 1985, at 2.30 p.m.

Let me not under-estimate the importance of the Meeting. It should be obvious to members that for a Society such as ours to continue, it requires a strong Working Committee.

All members must agree that the current Board has served the Society well over the past 3 years, and it is only fair that they be replaced with a new Committee, as hard-working as they have been. So give the matter serious thought, and if you are prepared to work hard for the future of the Society, please nominate for a position on the Committee.

The lease of the building comes up for renewal in November 1985, and let me inform members, particularly those mis-informed ones, that no new lease has been given and will not be given until the New Committee takes office.

I would particularly like to ask parents to talk to the younger members of our Society to come forward and take over the future direction of the Victorian Castellorizian Society.

We enclose an Agenda and a copy of the President's Report tabled at the Annual General Meeting, held on Sunday, 18th August, 1985.

Don't forget - the future of the Society is in your hands!

We print a letter of Tribute from Basil Stefanou for the Late Mr. Leffy Mangos.

We also print an Article by Hugh Schmitt on a Memorial Service recently held in West Australia. The Article was forwarded to us by Mr. George Papadopoulos.

EXTRAORDINARY GENERAL MEETING

Once again, due to circumstances beyond our control, the Annual General Meeting, which was to be held at Castellorizian House on the 18th August, 1985, was postponed to Sunday, 10th November, 1985.

A Quorum, as required under the Constitution, was not present.

Not one nomination was received for the seven vacant positions on the Board, therefore an Extraordinary Meeting will be held on - Sunday, 10th November, 1985, at 2.30 p.m., at Castellorizian House.

Nominations will be re-opened and will stay open to Sunday, 10th November, 1985, up till 2.30 p.m. All nominations to the Secretary, P.O. Box 112, South Melbourne.

At this meeting the following Motions will be put to the Members:

Motion 1:

"That a part-time Paid Secretary be appointed by the Society for one day a week, a total of eight hours, to take care of the collection of Rental, Membership Lists, and all correspondence on behalf of the Society, including the letting of the Club Rooms to members for functions, etc., and assisting in the preparation of the Cassie Newsletter."

Note: The Society is now in a position to employ a part-time Secretary to pay accounts and keep proper records. Payment would be under the Award and would total approx. $8 per hour.

Motion 2:

"That failing the election of a New Committee, a sub-Committee of three be appointed to make recommendations as to the future of the Society, and to pay current accounts, etc."

The following by-law is from our current Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association. We print it for members' information:

"If upon the winding up or dissolution of the Community there remains after the satisfaction or all its debts and liabilities any property whatsoever the same shall not be paid to or distributed among the members of the Community but shall be given or transferred to some other Greek organization in Australia having objects wholly or in part similar to the objects of the Community and which shall prohibit the distribution of its or their income and property among its or their members to an extent at least as great as is imposed on the Community under or by virtue of Clause 3 hereof such institution or institutions organizations or organization to be determined by the members of the Community at or before the time of dissolution and in default thereof then by the Supreme Court of Victoria or a Judge of that Court as may have or acquire jurisdiction in the matter and if and so far as effect cannot be given to the aforesaid provision then equally to any other Castellorizian Association in Australia and if no such Association is in existence in Australia then to the Castellorizian Community of Castellorizio Greece."

The passing of Lefky Mangos reduces by another stalwart tree the erstwhile large forest of the Castellorizian Community in Australia.

The dense forest was resplendent with trees that in their totality bore the name of the Castellorizian ancestry. The elimination one by one of the trees desolated the individual and legendary race of the Castellorizians.

One of the trees that has been felled and passed forever was Lefteris Constantine Mangos.

As every tree produces the seeds that perpetuate its species and contributes to the perpetuation of human society, so did Lefky Mangos with his everlasting smile and happy disposition. This disposition is evident in the members of his family. His long and respected life in Australia did not reduce his strong feelings for his native Castellorizo.

He was always in the leading ranks of the Castellorizian Association and he was the main driving force for the acquisition of its present headquarters in South Melbourne.

In recording the passing of such a respected member of our community we join the many hundreds of our compatriots who lower their heads in perpetual respect for the memory of Lefky Mangos.

THE TRAGEDY THAT BROUGHT A NEW WAVE OF MIGRANTS - By HUGH SCHMITT.

From "The West Australian" - Friday, 27th September, 1985.

Forty years ago this Sunday a British ship called the Empire Patrol slipped out of Port Said in the middle of the night carrying 494 Greek refugees back to their beloved homeland, the Dodecanese island of Castellorizo.

When fire broke out early the following day in the 3334-tonne vessel, the Empire Patrol became a floating hell as the refugees - mostly women and children - panicked, flinging themselves into the sea.

Tragically, 33 lives were lost. And the modern Greek tragedy became the catalyst for the migration to Western Australia of a second wave of migrants from tiny (about the size of Rottne) Castellorizo.

When the survivors of the ill-fated freighter finally reached their island home, with no possessions but the clothes they stood in, they found it had been almost razed by German and Allied bombs and plundered and pillaged by the occupying Germans.

"There was just nothing left", one of the survivors, Dr. Paul Bouatzis, said this week. "Our parents just did not have the heart or the materials to start over again. They immediately made plans to join their friends and relatives who had migrated to Western Australia - and other parts of the world - since the beginning of the century".

About 8000 of the estimated Greek population of 19,000 in WA either came from Castellorizo or are direct descendants.

On Sunday, 40 of the survivors of the Empire Patrol holocaust and more than 400 of their relatives will gather at the picturesque monastery of Saint John of the Mountain in Forrestfield to commemorate the 33 victims of the tragedy.

PLAQUE. Bearded Greek Orthodox Priest Father George Litas will conduct the liturgy to commemorate the 40th anniversary, and a memorial plaque which the Perth Greeks will send to Castellorizo will be dedicated.

Three of the oldest survivors of the ship fire - all more than 80 - will be presented with jewellery donated by a Castellorizian who became a millionaire - fishing and boatbuilding magnate, Michael G. Kailis, who is vice-president of the World Castellorizian Association.

The names of the 33 victims have been inscribed on a jarrah board for mounting in the church.

When the Empire Castle went down ablaze, the survivors lost gold jewellery worth probably several million dollars at today's values.

Castellorizo Megisti, to give its full name, was a wealthy island in its halcyon pre-war days, a trading port in gold and other precious commodities, with a population of 15,000.

Being so strategically situated on the Near East trading route, the island became a prime acquisition for foreign powers.

It was taken over by Turkey, then France, and when the World War broke out, it was under Italian rule.

Greek by culture and religion, its inhabitants found themselves under enemy domination. Then the British briefly liberated the island but, wishing to use the island to divert enemy attention to Greece and its southern islands from the invasion site on Normandy, the British evacuated the entire population of Castellorizo to Cyprus in October, 1943, following merciless bombing by German Stukas.

PALESTINE. After six months in Cyprus, most of the refugees were taken to camps in Palestine, administered by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA).

The Castellorizians built themselves a temporary home near Palestine, and with help from locals and from their relatives in WA, they built up possessions.

"But all our parents wanted was to get back to their homeland", said Dr. Boyatzis.

"When the war ended, their chance came - almost".

Two shiploads of men left for Castellorizo earlier in 1945 and the third contingent, aboard the Empire Patrol, comprised 400 women and children among the total complement of 494.

Under the command of Captain J.A. Taylor, a Scot, the ship was about 90km off Port Said when fire broke out in the ship's dispensary.

"A kerosine stove fell over as milk was warmed on it for a baby", recalls survivor Nick Lucas, once billed as "the fastest oyster opener in the West".

"I can remember the screams of women and children as they panicked. I was terrified myself. "My mother prayed hysterically. She had five children aboard, three daughters and two sons. When we had climbed into a lifeboat they couldn't get the pulleys to work, so someone cut the ropes with an axe. The lifeboat tipped up and catapulted several passengers into the water. I clung to the side of the lifeboat."

MISSING. "After we had been picked up by the British aircraft carrier Trouncer, we noticed that my elder brother Lukas was missing. My mother hysterically asked an officer to radio other rescue ships to see if they had picked up Lukas. Then we got a message back from another ship that Lukas had been picked up."

Nick Lucas's 83-year old mother, Maria, will be one of the survivors to be honoured at tomorrow's service.

Mrs. Evangellia Mallis, Dr. Boyatzis's sister, was only a young girl when she abandoned ship with her parents, baby sister Betty and two brothers, but she remembers it vividly.

"People were crying and screaming and flinging themselves into the sea", she remembers. "My sister was only six months old and she was wrapped in a thick coat and lowered into a raft. My father, Antoni, helped put many people into the boats". That baby is now living in City Beach as Mrs. Betty Papadopoulos.

Paul Boyatzis, who was baptised in the River Jordan during the war, recalls: "We had just had a fire drill and things were back to normal when we heard the fire whistles going off again.

We thought it was another drill - till we heard the screaming and saw the smoke and flames.

With a strong wind blowing and few able-bodied men aboard to fight the fire, it quickly grabbed a hold and in no time the ship was engulfed in flames. We scrambled from the water into a raft. I was wearing only a singlet."

"Many of the women had valuable dowries with them and millions of dollars worth of gold and jewels went into the water.

After a cold 24 hours in the raft we were picked up by a British destroyer and taken back to Port Said. We were given warm clothes and slept on the deck of the ship."

The joy of finally arriving back in their homeland was shortlived for the Castellorizians when they saw the carnage the war had wreaked on their island.

But indirectly it led to a new, prosperous life for most of them in WA, or in the United States or the Greek mainland.

Castellorizians are scattered all over the world, but they keep in touch with each other through the World Castellorizians' Association.

Now Castellorizo has a population of only 150, but through the efforts of descendants of former islanders, the glories of the tiny island are being restored.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The present Committee has completed three years in office and I would like to say at the outset - thank you to all members for a job well done during this period. We have had only one resignation and that was in July 1985, when our Treasurer, Jacob Fronistas, resigned. I have no hesitation in saying that this was the most successful Castellorizian Committee that I have had the pleasure of working with.

This current three years has seen our Society stabilise its financial position and have paid all taxes, charges and insurance costs. It has opened a term deposit account of $20,000 for future use of the Society. We have had a permanent tenant in our front hall for the past eight years. The tenant, whose lease expires in November of this year, is seeking to renew his lease with an offer of $250 per week, plus all MMBW and Council rates for the total building, which includes our Club Rooms. His current rental is $205 per week and I would strongly recommend that a new one-year lease be given to the tenant, who has kept our property in a first-class condition.

We have had a proper valuation carried out on the building by the reputable firm of Salmann & Co. Their Current valuation on the building has been set at $350,000. Together with our current assets, the Club is indeed in a strong financial position. As most members are aware, we hold clear title to the property.

The Castellorizian Newsletter has been a successful means of communication and I hope it will continue as such.

Apart from the financial stability of our Society, the Committee has also cemented relationships with the Archdiocese of Victoria and let me take this opportunity of thanking His Grace Bishop Ezeikeil, Father Basil and Father Kentrotis for their attendance and co-operation over the last three years. Our Society was fortunate to have had the patronage of the Consul for Greece, Mr. J. Giorgiandis and Mrs. Giorgiandis. Let me thank them and wish them God speed to their new posting in Canberra. The acceptance of the new Consul General of Victoria, Mr. Manaloupoulos, to be patron at our 60th Birthday celebrations, was greatly appreciated by us and it is an indication of the high regard with which the Castellorizian Society is held by the Archdiocese and the Consulate of Victoria.

Our attempt during the year to draw together the Ithacian Society, E.E.A.M.A. and other Greek organisations, although not successful, was an exercise in goodwill, which was very pleasing in the sense that we were able to sit down and discuss our mutual problems. We have achieved much over the past years, but there is still a lot to be achieved in the next few years.

The disappointing aspect of our last three years has been the failure of your Committee to re-locate the Society in more suitable premises. Let me say that it was not from the lack of trying. We have worked hard and long and inspected many buildings. Just to mention a few, - the Masonic Club, University Club, Rowallen Receptions, Kelvin Club, Springvale R.S.L. and the Greek Community Buildings. We also entered into feasibility studies with other Greek Organisations in an attempt to set up an Hellenic Centre. We selected a site and entered into many hours of negotiations with Real Estate Agents and architects - all to no avail.

I leave the Society with the disappointment of not having achieved this very necessary move on behalf of you all, but with optimism that this will be achieved in the near future.

My second disappointment is the failure of the Youth Club to consolidate after a good start, and prepare themselves for the continued existence of our Society. The new Committee will have to look closely at setting up a Youth Sub-committee to cater for the 12 to 16 age group.

The Club Rooms continue to be used by the Elderly Greek Citizens of South Melbourne and Port Melbourne once a week, under the auspices of the Archdiocese of Victoria.

Finally, let me congratulate our Committee and our Social Secretary for the success of our 60th Year Birthday Celebrations, highlighted by our Debutante Ball. The task of the new Committee will not be an easy one, but they can be assured that they will have my full support. Over the past 20 years, I have been a Committee Member for 12 years and 10 years as President. I leave the Society with the thought that I am proud to be Castellorizian and, to those who will direct the future of the Society - GOOD LUCK!

Jack Bisas, O.A.M.

President.
